were in inverse order to those in the grain market. Throughout the business session of the Chicago Board of Trade it was apparently the case that stock mar-ket ventures were predicated along ther upon the movements in corn. That staple opened this morning within a range of prices 2 to 4 per cent higher than Saturday's final figures. Only nominal reces-sions were recorded in the quotations for corn during the day, and upon each advance in the staple tenewed weakness developed in the stock market.

These corresponding movements were, indeed, so well timed as to make it appear almost certain that a concerted manipulation of the two markets was in progress. Western houses, that is to say of stocks upon the opening of husiness and subsequently during the day. Their procedure was, it is needless to say, accompanied by the most alarming reports respecting the condition of the corn and spring wheat crops, and it may be conceded for that matter that the less disinterested news from the crop section in question, was scarcely more encouraging than that which emanated from the Chicago Board of Trade.

So far as the stock market was concerned, the conclusion appeared to have been generally reached that the whole fabric of the country's trade was threatend with prostration by reason of what is as yet little more than a problematical issue to what a few years ago was regarded as a comparatively minor crop.

Some of the declines scored in the rall-way list reflected a condition of sentiment which could be described as nothing short of demand the day. Stocks of the grade of St. Paul and Union Pacific showed declines in excess of 10 points from Saturday's highest figures, and corresponding losses were registered elsewhere. The stocks cited are named on account of their particularly influentiat position in the present speculative case. Attention appeared to be so wholly absorbed in the agricultural situation that the bettering conditions respecting the labor troubles in various directions were altogether ignored. The collapse of the bulls, except that prices did not go machinists strike and that of the station off further. The strong and gratifying monetary situation, as directly attested in Saturday's bank statement, while a subject of discussion, was also without any real in fluence in the dealings. Few returns of railway traffic were submitted, and the general routine situation was hare of interesting developments. Sterling exchange continued exceedingly firm, but even that additional factor on the bear side was attogether overshadowed by the flitturbing news from the corn-growing States and the almost sensational advisoring news from the corn-growing states and the almost sensational advisoring news from the corn-growing for the day operated for lower prices. London sent in a much lower range of prices for American stocks, although it might be noted that for the first time in a number of days the dealings in this marked. For reign account resuited, on balance, in purchases, albeit the total takings were in very light of time. As noted, and there were many evidences that the decline in prices had attained proportiors which necessitated the closing out of weakened speculative accounts.

The bulk of the day's dealings was furnished by the railway list. The declines scored.

The industrial quarter, the specialities, and the local traction stocks moved altogether in line with the railway list. At the same time the United States Steel issues might be described as having been contained except of the declines scored.

The grangers naturally suffered more than other securities in yesterday's break. St. Paul went to 152 and a fraction, only a point above the extreme low price of a week ago. Rock Island went to 157, Atchison common to 884, Atchison preferred to 92. Missouri Pacific to 95, well below the price of a week ago; Union Pacific to 834, and Great Western common to 214. There was a good raily all over this group before the close, with the exception of Missouri Pacific, which closed on the bottom with a break for the day of more than seven points. grangers naturally suffered more Missouri Pacific for some reason was particularly and persistently weak. It closed on last Saturday above 194 and closed yesterday around 37, at the lowest price since the great May panie. The other Gould securities, the Wabashes, Texas Pacific, and Missouri, Kansas and Texas all went off in sympathy with this stock. Missouri Pacific is a 5 per cent dividend payer and the earnings of the line for the past six months have been superb. Moreover, the Gould reorganization plan is a bull argument yet to be utilized by the insiders. It is believed by many that these securities are a good purchase on this break.

Different special matters affected different stocks, in addition to the general news. Baltimere and Ohio was weak during the early part of the day on the circulation of a statement that no increase in the dividend rate need be expected at this time or for some time to come. It want to $\text{3}$ at one time, but recovered later. Louisville and Nashville and the Southern Railway securities held their own failly well, perhaps because of the better reports from the cotton belt.
Louisville and Nash-lile soid ex-dividend $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent, and at one time went as low as $\frac{1}{2}$, but it recovered well. The Norfolk and Western earnings for the second week of July showed an increase of $\frac{1}{2}$, $\frac{1}{2}$0, and the securities of that company held their own satisfactorily, in comparison with the general market.

Sugar was again one of the strong features of the market. It went off to 140, but later recovered the larger part of its losses. The street heard the story that the trust would restore the old price on refined sugars, making granulated 5.45 instead of 5.25, the recent price.

The Readings were fairly strong, neither the first preferred nor the common going off badly with the general market. The firemen's strike and the strike in the Reading car shops both seem to be ended, and it would seem that the outlook for prosperity for the company is assured. The Erle securities were rather weak yesterday for no reason that could be assigned. The common went as low as 34% and the preferred as low as 55%.
